We Dedicate
the 1933 Cupola

Because from our first year at Rockford, you have been to all of us an aid in orienting ourselves; because we too wish to recognize with the world your achievements; and because we are glad and proud that you are a member of our faculty, we present this book to you, wishing you to know our appreciation.

Foreword

'The world's a stage.' Shakespeare said it long ago, but like so many old ideas, it is as true as the sun, and will be so as long as men live.

We have imagined Rockford College as a stage. Across it pass the eager actors, caught up in the excitement of the drama, each playing her part as well as she may. The role of every player is closely integrated with the whole play, which goes on unceasingly, the sombre mask of tragedy replaced more often by the laughing one of comedy, for this drama is a happy and light-hearted one.

At once the actors and the audience, we share the smiles and tears of our fellow-players, thrill with them when the action grows more stirring, and contribute our part when we hear our cues. As the time for our final exit draws near, the music grows more sweet, the spoken lines more tender, until with a gentle sadness in our hearts, we see the curtain fall on the drama of our college life. It will rise again, we know, with other actors in our roles, but we will be making our entrance on a greater stage in a more vital play.

COLLEGE GOVERNMENT BOARD

College Government Board is the executive and legislative body of the College Government Association. The entire student body is included in this association, which may be called the instrument through which Rockford's social policies are formulated and enacted. It guides the community life of the college and protects the freedom of each individual.

The Board makes, revises, or abandons the laws of College Government to accord with changes that time must bring. It also cooperates in carrying out faculty recommendations and in enforcing rules.

Important individual cases are brought to the examination of the Judiciary committee which has as its chairman the Vice-President of the College Government Association.

TOWN STUDENTS ASSOCIATION

The Town Students Association is composed of all girls who live in town rather than in the dormitories. They have a board for their own government, the president of which serves as a member of College Government Board, uniting them with the dormitory students. They have for their use lower Adams, where there is a lunch room, recreation room, and kitchenette. The addition of the two rooms in second Middle last year has proved very wise. We feel that companionship between the two groups of students has prospered, and we hope that in the future it will continue to grow.

THE PLAYERS

THE PLAYERS

When the curtain rises on the First Act, the Players are dazzled by the foot-lights and confused by the strangeness of their surroundings. Some are seized with stage-fright, which disappears as they learn to know their fellow-actors. Soon they find their places in the drama, and become intensely interested in its progress. During the Second and Third Acts, the roles grow to be more important, character is revealed, and the plot is more complicated. The Fourth Act is the climax; the Players, now familiar with the setting and the action, find themselves the center of interest; and the Play ends in a burst of glory, the triumphant Players receiving ovations and applause as the curtain falls.

FRESHMAN OFFICERS

Last September, we Freshmen peeped over a wall into a new and terrifying world. There seemed to be two barriers in our way before we could finally follow the smooth pathway leading us toward our ideals and aspirations.

Tolo initiation and the Freshman show helped us to open the first gateway on our path; once inside we were cordially greeted by former Freshman classes. Helping hands were extended to us over the jagged flagstones toward the second gateway, lower than the first. This we opened successfully by means of the Freshman play, 'Alexander and Campaspe', which gave us at last the feeling of conquerers. After that valiant attempt, we knew ourselves to be at last full-fledged members of our college, and we accepted the Sophomores' torch with a promise to keep it burning forever.

We sang songs; burned our follies of the past year; stood in a shivering, half-clad, half-awake unit, watching the fire going out.

Some of the meaning of the day came with the dawn. Just how much we were going to 'look to this day' in other days to come we did not know until our chapel service. Sophomore Day was given beautiful and unforgettable meaning by the words of Jane Burrill, member of our sister class.

'To you, as to us, this fire symbolizes wisdom, and strength to have

In small things—liberty,
In big things—unity,
In all things—charity.'

JUNIOR DAY

'Come, let us sing, O Juniors, Sing to the ivy green.'

So caroled the Juniors in the early morning of October 28, 1931, as they planted their branch of ivy, living symbol of the passing of the Juniors to their new state of responsibility. As our ivy will grow and add to the beauty of our Alma Mater, we hope to develop and add grace to life about us, improving where we can, trying to use to best advantage our new-found sense of discrimination. It is our desire to live, so that in the time left us before we emerge into the 'wide, wide world,' we may, as Miss Mutschler hopes, have 'so well integrated a personal life that we not only can choose wisely in that confused world, but can also contribute to making it a saner and a happier place.' May we always rejoice in our opportunities and make the most of them.

SENIOR DAY

The cap and gown, 'these symbols of the faith and trust we share,' gave us a new dignity on that 'day of all our Rockford days.' Class days are always somewhat apart from the rest of college life, apart but deeply significant themselves of happy hours, intimate associations, and poignant memories.

The words which we sang 'proudly yet with wistfulness' made us realize the 'sweetness of this soundless theme,' a theme which has meant to us all participation, cooperation, eagerness, happiness, and honor, a training to prepare us for the life in which the 'ideals of our Alma Mater gleam.'

This society, symbolic of Socrates, the famous scholar, recognizes those who have distinguished themselves in 'things intellectual.' In honoring scholarship, they honor true achievement in the field of study. Faculty Phi Beta Kappas are members. Those Seniors who throughout their four years of college life have proved to be leaders in the academic side of this life are elected permanently. Also associated, for one year only, are certain outstanding students of the lower classes. In the entire school, it is regarded as a desirous goal and a suitable reward for achievement.

OFFICERS

RUTH STITES	President
AGNES SODERGREN	Vice-President
LENA SCANDROLI	Secretary-Treasurer
KATHERINE RAWSON	Corresponding Secretary
MRS. MILDRED F. BERRY	Adviser

Particularly outstanding in Forum's program of activities for this year were the four day debating trip into Michigan made by several members of the organization, and the formal debate with a team of women from Northwestern University which officially closed the forensic season here on April 12. The contest with Northwestern was unique in that it was an audience-decision debate, the first one of the kind ever participated in by Rockford students.

Another innovation consisted in holding debates in surrounding communities which evinced a desire to hear the war debt question discussed.

In addition to staging debates, Forum showed its interest in encouraging good public speaking by assisting the Rockford chapter of the American Association of University Women in arranging for a lecture by Stuart Chase, noted economist.

The League of Women Voters exists to stimulate an interest in contemporary events. Its activities this year have been centered around an interest in the first World Disarmament Conference which opened at Geneva in February. By a series of chapel programs it took the initiative in arousing opinion in the college concerning the policy of the representatives of the United States at the Conference. With the cooperation of the social science department the League assumed the leadership in the collection of signed petitions addressed to President Hoover, which, along with many other petitions from all over the United States, were sent to the President to assure him of the support of the people of the United States in pursuing a policy of proportional reduction of armaments.

TOLO CLUB

OFFICERS

MARY KENDREW President

BETTY VANDENBERG Vice-President

ANN WALKER Secretary-Treasurer

Tolo Club includes all students and has as its function the planning of freshman initiation and all the formal and informal dances and proms. Each girl serves on a committee at least once during the year. A council composed of representatives from each class constitutes the executive board of the organization. This last year has been one of its most successful; the dances were well attended and well enjoyed.

Perhaps the greatest contribution of Y. W. C. A. to the college is found in its direction of the 'Big and Little Sister' group. Big Sisters are chosen from the three upper classes to welcome the incoming Freshmen. Vesper services are held often throughout the year and are planned by the board of the organization. These programs, in which the students participate, are refreshing in a hurried life.

An honorary music society was formed this year for the benefit of students of music at Rockford. At alternate meetings, an enjoyable musical program is presented. This new club has as its purpose the stimulation of interest in music throughout the college.

OFFICERS

RUTH CARLSON	President
IONE FOSTER	Vice-President
EVELYN WIENECKE	Secretary-Treasurer
MISS MARTHA P. MCGAVOCK	Adviser
DR. A. FRANCES JOHNSON	Adviser

Making mathematics interesting may not seem possible to everyone. In the four meetings of the Mathematics Club, such discussions as mathematics in every day life, the lives of famous mathematicians, and solutions to unusual problems have proved very interesting to the members.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

OFFICERS

HELEN SCHAEFFER	President
MARY MONTGOMERY	Vice-President
WINIFRED WITHERS	Secretary-Treasurer

The Home Economics Club provides a means of social contact for students interested in this particular field. Its activities are not confined to members only, however, for it has served the entire college body by holding food sales, giving teas, and bringing lecturers. One of the most interesting projects this year was a trip to the McCormick farms and dairy.

SOCIAL SCIENCE CLUB

OFFICERS

DOROTHEA KLINE	President
CHARLOTTE CANNELL	Vice-President
ELIZABETH McDUGALL	Secretary
TESSIE BERKMAN	Chairman of Social Service
PROFESSOR C. WALKER HAYES	Adviser

The Social Service Club is made up of students interested in social service, social theory, and economics, most of whom perform active service in the social settlements of Rockford. The club also keeps up the contact between the college and outside social movements and events by securing well-informed speakers to talk at its meetings and at the monthly chapels which it plans.

CLASSICAL CLUB

OFFICERS

BELDEN WAGNER President

HARRIET REES Secretary-Treasurer

According to the constitution of the club, any girl who took Latin for four years in high school or who has taken Greek or Latin in college is eligible for membership. Meetings are held periodically, and once a year a Roman Banquet is given. It is a most festive occasion. The menu and the program are in Latin, and there is even a hog's head in the middle of the table to make it thoroughly Roman.

ART CLUB

OFFICERS

MABEL BERT	President
PHYLLIS HOLM	Vice-President
ELOISE HURST	Secretary-Treasurer
PROFESSOR JEAN DUNCAN	Adviser

The Art Club is composed of girls who are interested in art and its promotion. It affords a means of contact with local and visiting artists and with art projects. Each Sunday afternoon, this year, two or more members have acted as hostesses at the Rockford Art Gallery. The club also belongs to the American College Society of Print Collectors, through which it secures each year several etchings to add to the permanent collection of the college. This year etchings by Cameron and Brangwyn have been received.

DRAMATIC CLUB

The purpose of the Dramatic Club is to develop the art of drama at Rockford College. To its active members it offers practical and theoretical training in acting, staging, lighting, costuming, make-up, and directing during the year. Members are chosen annually from a notitiate group who have proved their ability and interest in dramatic activities. All business of the club is directed by the executive committee, which consists of the officers and the chairmen of permanent committees.

FRENCH CLUB

Le Cercle Francais is one of the more active small clubs. Composed of students of French, it has frequent programs of songs and games, and even gives plays in French for the entertainment of the entire college.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Athletic Association is one of the most active organizations on the campus. It gives a minstrel show in the fall composed of local talent, and once a year invites girls from surrounding high schools for a play day, which is just as much fun for us as for our guests. Class and team games as well as individual sports are directed by the board of this association.

VARSITY HOCKEY

Varsity, picked from the best players in all four classes, means sportsmanship, good fast playing, shots that hit their mark, and the ability to keep one's feet out of the way.

THE DANCE

The dancers of the college under the direction of Miss Lensch not only produced the dance drama for the college May Party, and contributed to Washington Party a stately minuet of twelve couples, but gave a demonstration of technique and the development of the dance that made the college audience better acquainted with the constituent elements of this art and the 'artistic limitations and varied possibilities of each.' Clogging too is popular. Between halves of the Faculty-Varsity basketball game, several of the girls entertained us with original tap dances. We are glad to see that the dance has been set in its proper place among the arts at Rockford.

TENNIS

In the spring and fall, the tennis courts are in use most of the time by the girls and by Dr. Swift, who is an ardent enthusiast. The title for a year ago was hotly contested between Dorothy McNabb, Senior, and Mary Cargill, Freshman. Both girls used very individual strokes in their playing, and that a Freshman should be runner-up was considered remarkable.

ARCHERY

Archery, a means of livelihood to the ancients, is a very popular sport here at school. In the spring on the north campus, the archers take their bows and arrows to practice that for which Robin Hood was famous.

RIDING

Riding yearly grows more popular. Regular classes are held with instruction. The spring brings forth our best equestrians in a riding show. Even the cold winter winds did not keep the boldest of the devotees of riding inside. Girls in boots and jaunty breeches enliven the campus and fire our imagination with a vision of red coats and baying hounds.

BASEBALL

Baseball is the team sport of the spring. The hockey field transformed into a baseball diamond is the scene of the interclass games. The anticipation of the baseball picnic is never more than the realization. The Faculty plays the Varsity at this time. Such an event always arouses the greatest enthusiasm.

SWIMMING MEET

The victory went to the Freshman natators in a most exciting meet in our pool this year. It was not exclusively a gathering of the best swimmers of the school, but was remarkable in that the entire college was represented. Those looking on saw some fine diving and speed strokes. Rockford College is fortunate in having two such accomplished divers as Mary Temple, Sophomore, and Zella Evans, Junior.

PUBLICITY

Press-agents and reporters describe the Play, sketch the plot, and judge the acting. They inform the Players, who do not always see the Play objectively since 'they have their exits and their entrances', of the complexities of the whole action, and give the outside audience an idea of the vast sweep of the Play.

THE SCORE

GLEE CLUB

DOROTHY DAVEY President
BETTY CRANE Librarian
PROFESSOR ALFRED O. WILLGEROTH Director

The Glee Club offers to its members opportunities for choral singing, for the appreciation of music, and for service in the musical life of the college. It has presented programs for Christmas Vesper Service, Socratic Day, and Day of Prayer, contributed soloists and choruses to the cast of The Bones of Weyland, and given a spring concert.

ORCHESTRA

DOROTHY SHARPE Director

MARY SAWDEY President

The orchestra has grown this year to a group of about thirty people. In accordance with tradition, it plays at the Christmas Candle-Light Supper, and gives an outdoor concert in early June. This year it assisted Dramatic Club by providing the orchestral accompaniment for the spring play, The Bones of Weyland.

THE CHOIR

DOROTHY FELLOWS . . . President

The choir contributes a very valuable service in leading the singing in the daily chapel services. Each month, it prepares a special number to be sung at one of the chapel gatherings. The choir is directed by Professor Alfred O. Willgeroth.

SONG CONTEST

This year the song contest was most exciting. The result was one more cup for the Seniors, but it must be said for the Juniors that they put up a good fight and almost won the cup. There was only one point difference in the total result. Each class sings two songs, one with original words and music and one college song. The judges give their decision based on words, music, rendition, and percentage of participation.

LEADING LADY

MAY PARTY

Amaryllis is the melody most infinitely stirring to Rockford College hearts in the month of May. When we hear its first strains, we know that the Queen of the May and her retinue are beginning their stately procession toward the throne where the May Queen of yester-year reigns. A tense silence falls on the audience as they await breathlessly the appearance of the queen and her little company of attendants, girls of merit who have been chosen secretly to accompany her. When she reaches the steps of the throne, she kneels to the former queen who places a wreath of violets on her head. The new queen in turn crowns her predecessor with forget-me-nots.

Then the queen and her court watch the graceful and brilliant pageant of May Party. This year it was adapted from Voltaire's story, The Princess of Babylon, and portrayed in dance and pantomime the wanderings of Princess Formosanta and her lover Amazan.

The girl who is chosen as May Queen is the personification of the spirit of Rockford College, and has conducted herself in accordance with its ideals throughout her four years at Rockford. She is elected by the whole college, but her identity is kept secret until the day of May Party.
